Student Survey Successfully completed in GLC

Student feedback survey has been successfully completed at GLC. This contents provides some objective questions about the students view of the lecturer teaching them, the notes they provided, the courses and the studying environment at GLC.

Most of the students took part in this survey. The survey has given the College management the opportunity to improve different areas. Majority of students have recommended to improve the College library, the toilets and the change in class start time.

The College management is taking necessary action to improve these.

The Academic Year for ABE, ACCA, IMIS of February 2010 to be end soon.

The February 2010 session for ABE ,ACCA and IMIS is going to end soon and students are busy doing their mock exams.

The next intake for these courses start on 23rd August 2010.

BCS Students to Start from end of June 2010

The BCS classes will resume from 21st of June 2010. These classes will run for 13 weeks before the September/October 2010 exam.

2/3 Modules Per Course System

The College has introduced new system of teaching in order to improve the quality of studies instead of teaching all the modules in each term.

The College will teach 2 or 3 modules per course each term and will be teaching the remaining modules in the subsequent term.

Bigger Study Room!!!!

The College has recently introduced a new study area which is in Room 204. This will provide an extended study area and the College is stocking the library with more books and other study materials.

First Aid at GLC

First Aid Training

First Aid training for the GLC Staff will take place on the 9th June 2010 at the College premises. This training is intended to last for 6 hours and it is suggested that all staff take part as it is for emergencies.

Heading Towards ACCA Gold

After providing the good ACCA teaching and learning facilities in the class, the College is now moving towards the ACCA Gold Learning Partner status. A team from ACCA is visiting the College on 21st May 2010, Friday for the inspection. The College is currently a registered ACCA course Provider.
